

INTELLECTUAL LOVE STORY TOLD

Mrs. Rantoul Frankly Admits Kisses and Letters at Divorce Hearing.

DENIES OTHER LIBERTIES

Society Woman Again Opens Story of Her "Intellectual Love" for Chester Rumrill.

Boston, Feb. 19.—With a frank and calm admission that she and not only loved Chester Rumrill, her husband's chum, but had kissed him and received presents from him and corresponded daily with him, Mrs. Loh Burnett Rantoul, granddaughter of James Russell Lowell, this afternoon again opened the story of her "intellectual love" for Rumrill in the resumption of her suit for divorce from Edward L. Rantoul. Coupled with this testimony, however, came an emphatic denial from Mrs. Rantoul that she had ever taken other liberties with Rumrill. She said she had not seen him since July, 1911. These admissions were brought out on cross-examination. In direct examination she said she recently came out of a hospital after an operation. She said she had been subjected to physical violence by Mr. Rantoul. It began in July, 1911, and continued to April, 1912, she testified. An incident in Wareham in the summer of 1911 was called up. She went to visit the Codmans in Wareham, the party consisting of the Rantouls and Mrs. Codman.

Too Adjoining Rooms.
"We arrived there at eight at night," she testified. "The man brought the two bags up and put Mr. Rantoul's bag into an adjoining room to mine. Afterward Mr. Rantoul came up and was very angry because his bag was not in my room."

"What language did he use?" was asked.

"He called me 'Low down, vile from the gutter.' He said I was not fit to be the mother of our children; he said: 'It was a damned outrage.'"

"He came dashing into my room at night," continuing the witness, "and continued calling me names. He came in at hourly intervals. I did not dare to undress. At 5 in the morning he came in and tried to take my wedding ring away from me. I prevented this by sitting on my hand."

Mrs. Rantoul also said Mr. Rantoul tried to get her handbag, which she said, contained strychnine.

"I got the bag first. He grabbed my wrist and grabbed the bag. But he did not get it away from me, because I wound the strap handle around my hand."

These are samples of the stories of alleged cruelty with which Mrs. Rantoul entertained the crowd of society people in the courtroom.

At one point she declared, "He (Rantoul) has not read a book since we were married."

GOV. DUNNE BRYAN'S GUEST.

Illinois Chief Executive Calls on "J. Ham" to Talk Jobs.

The Governor of Illinois and Mrs. Dunne came to Washington yesterday to be the guests of honor at a banquet to be given by Secretary of State Bryan last night. Both Gov. Dunne and Secretary Bryan denied that there is any political significance in the governor's visit to Washington at this time. However, it is expected that the Illinois situation will be talked over and discussed from all angles during Gov. Dunne's stay here.

Gov. Dunne called on Senator Lewis and other members of the Illinois delegation and discussed a number of questions with them. The governor and his family took lunch with Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis at the Raleigh.

Philadelphia, Feb. 19.—At the conference of the anthracite coal operators, in the Lafayette Building here today, it was decided that there would be no "check-off" system in the hard coal region during the present working agreement, which will expire March 31, 1915. "ART FELLOW" OF FIVE MARVELS AT MORGAN'S EXHIBIT.

New York, Feb. 19.—What beautiful clothes the women in these pictures wear, daddy. Such was the very genuine remark uttered repeatedly by little Miss Virginia Burrage when viewing the Morgan art collection in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Virginia was made a fellow in perpetuity of the museum when six months old by the late J. Pierpont Morgan. Despite her admiration for the costumes worn by the subjects in the great masterpieces, the girl was apparently conscious of her own attractiveness. For she informed all those who could not resist the temptation to speak to her and called her "Snowbird." "Mamma" has bought her the prettiest white costume of fur in which she was muffled.

Commerical Club Host To Many Fair Visitors

Throng of Society Women Turns Out for First "Ladies Day" at New Quarters of Business Men's Home—Admiration for Club.

"Ladies' day" at the Commercial Club brought together a goodly assemblage of charming, well-gowned Washington matrons and maids yesterday afternoon, when the members entertained at their first reception in their new quarters, 1211 I street. The house-warming was a great event in the social history of the club, and the entire building was thrown open to the inspection of the fair visitors.

The spacious rooms were decorated with spring blossoms and palms, even the broad, winding stairway to the main floor and the glass-enclosed loggia held their portion of beautiful flowers and Southern smiles. Takeman's Orchestra played during the reception. W. C. Johnson, president of the club, assisted by Mrs. Milton E. Allen, Cuno H. Rudolph, former Commissioner of the District, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Shurt, and E. C. Graham received the sea or more guests. George W. Harris made the introductions. The board of governors, the house committee, and members of the entertainment committee, also assisted in welcoming their guests. The reception line stood just inside the entrance of the large dining and assembly room, at one end of which buffet refreshments were served from a long handsomely appointed table. A centerpiece of American Beauty roses and carnations and pink shaded candelabra were used in the decorations of the table. Lemonade and coffee were served in the mirrored alcove off the main dining-room.

BANISH INDIGESTION WITH PHOSPHO-PEPSIN

A gnawing, burning sensation in the region of the stomach, palpitation of the heart, lack of ambition, impaired appetite—all are symptoms of indigestion, and unless given proper attention, frequently lead to that terrible affliction—chronic dyspepsia.

Phospho-Pepsin is ideal for all stomach ills whether slight or serious. It is a perfectly balanced combination of elements necessary to produce a healthy, normal condition in the digestive tract, and the very first dose will bring speedy relief. It ends stomach misery by absorbing the gas and neutralizing excess acid.

Phospho-Pepsin is in tablet form, easy to take, and readily assimilated by the gastric juices. It goes right to the seat of trouble—the stomach and large intestine—and gently stimulates the digestive tract so that it can properly perform its work. Phospho-Pepsin contains the greatest elements known to science for indigestion and for restoring complete health to the entire digestive tract, and a single dose contains enough pure pepsin to digest nearly an entire meal. There is nothing like it—nothing to take its place—nothing that is so rapid, so sure in its results.

Phospho-Pepsin is sold by any good druggist, such as James O'Donnell.

CHARGED WITH UNIQUE MAIL ORDER SWindle

Robert A. Hamilton Accused of Soliciting $50,000 to Buy Home for Col. George W. Goethals.

WILL BE ARRAIGNED TODAY

Robert Andrew Hamilton will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Anson S. Taylor today on a charge of trying to "put over" one of the most unique mail order swindles in the criminal annals of the Postoffice Department.

Hamilton is accused of soliciting $50,000 through the mails to buy residence to be presented as a Christmas gift surprise to Col. George W. Goethals, governor of the Panama Canal Zone. The necessity of secrecy was impressed upon all asked to contribute in order that the surprise might be complete.

The prisoner is thirty-seven years old, and claims to be a civil engineer for the Canadian Pacific Railroad. He opened offices in the Warder Building and a suite in Congress Hall Hotel after his arrival in this city three weeks ago.

Newspapers were to announce the gift on next Christmas Eve, stated Hamilton's circular, and Mrs. Goethals was to select the house three months prior to that time. When arrested Hamilton claimed he intended to carry out the plan of buying the house, but admitted he intended paying his expenses in the meantime with money contributed.

CEYLON TOPIC OF LECTURE.

Dwight L. Elmendorf Begins Series of Travel Talks.

Dwight L. Elmendorf, at the New National Theater yesterday afternoon, began his 1914 series of travel talks on "The Other Side of the World." With Ceylon, Mr. Elmendorf's vivid and pictorial descriptions of the natural beauties of this little island, a crown colony of Great Britain, in the Indian Ocean, south of Hindustan, were supplemented interestingly with intimate observations of its many peoples. These brown people are of many races, Sinhalese, Kandians, Tamils, Moormen, Veddahs, &c., and the varied conditions of life and occupations furnish graphic material for the motion pictures.

After a puffing day on the Indian Ocean we arrive at Colombo, where there is much business and throngs of natives on the busy highways. The natives hurry to and fro, but the equatorial heat soon forces tourists to resort to the "rickshaw," that picturesque form of locomotion in Eastern countries. The Sinhalese are shown in varied-colored dress, or rather lack of dress. Hindu temples 2,000 years old contain the images of Buddha and other sacred objects of worship.

A visit is made to a godown, which means a factory, and the motion pictures show the Sinhalese women preparing plumage, or graphite.

At Kandy, the ancient capital and abode of the Kandy kings, we visit with Mr. Elmendorf the many old ruins and hear the legend of the Temple of the Tooth and many others. Kandy has a dancing craze, the dancing of the native girls being not unlike the tango.

It would be missing much not to visit the tea plantations of Ceylon, and Mr. Elmendorf pictures the tea industry in all its branches. The women are shown plucking the tea, for which they receive the "large remuneration" of from 8 to 10 cents a day.

Mr. Elmendorf's subject Thursday next at 4:30 p. m. will be "Southern India."

SAYS TRADE STANDARD IS BEING ELEVATED

Unfair Methods Thing of Past, Representative Kreider Tells Shoe Merchants.

CO-OPERATION URGED STRONGLY

"Co-operation and organization are the watchwords of business nowadays, and it is essential and to the interest of business men that they should meet and know one another," declared Representative A. S. Kreider, of Pennsylvania, in an address last night at a meeting of the shoe section of the Retail Merchants' Association.

"The time has come by," continued the speaker, "when the shoe industry must be organized. They drift into a city from anywhere and nowhere, advertise pedantic bargains and prey upon the public."

Representative Kreider urged the shoe men to co-operate thoroughly with their local and national associations, and reminded his hearers that one only reaps rewards according to the measure of the service rendered.

Joseph Strasburger, chairman of the shoe section, presided at the meeting, which was largely attended. Arthur Burt, Harry W. Hahn, and others, told of the convention of the National Shoe Retailers' Association in New York City last month. The section adopted a resolution calling on the shoe manufacturers to ship their goods in wooden rather than three cases, and considered other matters of a routine nature.

ANGLO-SAXON SONG WRITER

Henry Carey Wrote Music of "God Save the King" and of "America."

One hundred and seventy-one years ago in the City of London a composer died, who during his lifetime wrote two songs. One of these songs has made every loyal British subject stand upon his feet every time it is sung. This man was of noble birth, for he was the son of the Marquis of Halifax, but he has always been known to the citizens of the English Empire as Henry Carey. The melody of "God Save the King" (for that was one of Carey's songs) was taken by Oliver Wendell Holmes (classmate, Samuel Francis Smith, as the ideal music for his "My Country, 'Tis of Thee").

Henry Carey died without knowing that the American Colonies ever dreamed of being independent. But in spirituality his soul must be happy, as it goes marching on, to know that his music is used for the national hymn of the two great Anglo-Saxon nations.

The other Carey song, "Sally in Our Alley," is known as the coquette opera-prime's delight. Every grand opera accompanist is invited to sing in English lyrics the voice of "Sally," and every village belle who sings in the town hall at the big doings also pays her respects to "Sally." All of Henry Carey's songs are in The Herald's collection of "Songs That Never Grow Old." Read the display announcement and clip the coupon today.

Justice White Has Anniversary.

Chief Justice Edward Douglas White, of the United States Supreme Court, yesterday celebrated the twentieth anniversary of his appointment to the Supreme Court bench.

Don't Trifle With Your Health!

—it is too precious a possession. It is trifling to neglect the little every-day kind of ailments. It is trifling, too, to take medicines of unknown or doubtful ingredients. If your stomach gets out of order, your food is not digested and, of course, your blood gets thin and you become weak, ready to be a prey to the disease germs always ready to attack the run-down and the anaemic. If your liver can't do its work, your blood becomes impure and many troubles follow. If your bowels are irregular, poisons accumulate in your body.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

(In Tablet or Liquid Form)

helps the stomach to digest food properly, strengthens the liver, regulates the bowels. As a consequence you are vigorous, full of snap and life! Forty years ago Dr. Pierce discovered that a glyceric extract of Golden Seal and Oregon grape roots, of queen's root and bloodroot with black cherry bark would aid all the digestive organs to work as Nature intended they should. Thousands have found that the Golden Medical Discovery he then introduced to the world has restored them to health when suffering from stomach and liver troubles. Now is the time for you to try this famous remedy and to secure for yourself a larger share of health and strength.

You can get the Golden Medical Discovery in tablet or liquid form from dealers in medicines—or send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box of Dr. Pierce's tablets.

The knowledge you ought to have about your body—and to enable you to avoid sickness—you will find in Dr. Pierce's great book, The Common Sense Medical Adviser. Thousands of copies have been sold at $1.50 each, but you can get a copy free if you will send 31 one-cent stamps merely to pay for the wrapping and mailing of the newly revised and up-to-date edition. Address: Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N.Y.

Now a Well and Happy Woman

"I took Dr. Gripep—had terrible pain in my side, and the doctor said one lung was affected," writes Mrs. S. Taylor, of Arnold, Kansas, Route 1. "I commenced using 'Medical Discovery.' Was in bed five weeks. Had cold sweats and was like one who was dying. I did not think I would ever get strong again. I used 'Golden Medical Discovery' for about five months, and now I am strong and have no more of any kind. We used Dr. Pierce's medicines in the family for a number of years, but this winter I tried them myself and they are all that I cannot praise them enough, and hope anyone using these remedies will not give up. I often thought of doing so myself because I was so weak and discouraged, but thanks to Dr. Pierce's family medicines I am a well and happy woman."
